'Wine and Roses' enchants couples

"Red Wine and Roses" was presented by the senior class as the annual Turnabout dance on February 13.

Complimenting the theme, hundreds of red roses decorated the tables and colonades, and a golden punch bowl spouting red punch decorated the refreshment table.

Serving refreshments were Diane Julian, Sue Wright, Liz Been, Judi Kidwell, Michelle Davis, Diana Hayes, Debbie Martin, Kathy Tucker, Phyllis Stepnowski, and Cindy Crouch, all seniors.

During the dance Giola's Studio of Gary took photographs of couples in attendance.

"Time," a local rock group, provided music for the 66 couples who attended.

After the dance many couples traveled to area restaurants such as the Red Lantern, San Remos, Sir Alex's, Mama Puntillo's and Wellman's for a late evening dinner.

Above Left—Melinda Richardson, freshman, and Ray Ostrander, senior, fill their cups with punch from the golden fountain that decorated the serving table.

The Senior Class captured third with "Panthers Have a Hangup", and "Panthers Are All Washed Up," the Freshman float, came in last.

The Ingot Varsity lost the game with a score of 44-19 to the Griffith Panthers. An aftergame dance was held in the Junior High Multipurpose room.

Diana received a dozen red roses, a corsage and a small 'locket to commemorate her coronation.

Frank Bernacet, senior forward for the varsity team, was selected "Mr. Basketball." Frank received a new basketball as a remembrance of the occasion.

Other members of the homecoming court were Jackie Michna, Janine Rogers, Sharon Ondo, and Liz Been. These girls were nominated by the senior class one week prior to this event.

Athletic meets highlight assemblies

Assemblies at River Forest took on a different look as live athletic entertainment was incorporated into the assembly program.

On October 27 the GAA interscholastic girl's hockey team defeated Portage 4-2 in an all-school assembly.

Before the end of the semester students were treated to another assembly in which the Ingot matmen challenged and defeated Hanover Central 35-18.

Regular assembly programs featured inter-class "spirit" competitions based on presentations of individual class cheers, posters and skits. A panel of judges awarded letter grades to each class based on their participation in these pep sessions.

A Christmas and Thanksgiving assembly, including performances by both the choir and the band, were held before school dismissed for these holidays.

River Forest counselors hold camp

RF's Camp Counseling class, offered to juniors, culminated a year's preparation when they held spring camp at the Indiana Dunes State Park for sixth grade pupils in Hobart Township.

Two separate camp sessions were conducted on May 11-14, and May 18-21. Both sessions included four days of outdoor cooking, nature study, hikes, cabin competition, awards and the final campfire.

Each cabin contained either two or three counselors and carried a name to express the camp's theme "Camp Creature Features."

In the "Bloody Mama's cabin" were Diane Lamb, Diane Mayfield and Susan Thorman. The "She Devil's" contained camp counselors Susie Tabla, Brenda Tenorio and Loyce Welton.

"Souls of the Dead" counselors were Linda Brewer, Brenda House and Debbie O'Conner, and in the "Vault of the Victorious Victims" were Gail Daugherty, Juliette Shakula and Betty Van Fleet.

"Dracula's Bloodsuckers" saw Joe Dejanovic, Ishmael De Jesus and Joe Wojnarski in the counseling position, and Dave Burns and Bruce Hilliard entitled their cabin "Hideous Hands."

"Pleasant Dreams" was the title of Dennis Mioduski, Doug Patton and Mike Ragon's cabin, and "Torture Chamber" was the theme of Rich Jennings and Mike Petruska's cabin.

Four students assumed cooking duties for each session. Henriette Buehler, Pat Markle, Rich Chamberlian and Dale Morris prepared food for the first session, while Jim Chandler, Rick Holsombeck, Donna Hooper and Michelle Korbar finished the second session.

Mrs. Mary Broda served as the head cook for both sessions.

Miss Joanne Schafer of the RF's women's physical education department directed camp activities.

Week misses goal

Charity Week, sponsored by the River Forest Student Council, fell short of their monetary goal this year. Only $88.00 was earned.

During the week of events, March 29 through April 2, class jesters donated their services for a small fee. Services, included sitting in wastebaskets, kissing teachers and roosting on various filing cabinets.

Five jesters were selected from underclassmen only this year. Junior high students also participated. Every day the jester dressed in a different costume to solicit money for charity.

Hat day honors, which was a part of the week's agenda, went to Lavatta Martin, freshman. Loyce Welton, junior, collected the most money in the high school and Dan Waldrop collected the most for the junior high.

Climaxing the week was a dance in the high school gym during which the Poppy, a rock group from the Odyssey Media of Chicago, performed.

Money earned from Charity week was donated to the St. Labre Indian School in Ashland, Montana.

Thomas, Leonard reign

Seniors Kim Thomas and Dennis Leonard were crowned king and queen of the 1971 junior-senior class prom.

"Over the Rainbow," the theme of the prom, boasted several unusual decorations.

A large rainbow constructed of pastel carnations, arched over the dance floor of the Serbian Hall, the location of the dance.

Signs of the zodiac appeared on the wall-size zodiac wheel, also constructed in pastel shades. Other signs of the zodiac hung from the ceiling.

Music was provided by the Del Rene Orchestra and other stage performances were given by local RF students.

Post-prom activities were held in Valparaiso at Wheelman's Bridgeview Theater.

Possum River, a rock band from Chicago, provided dancing music. A smorgasbord meal was served during the evening.

Approximately 125 couples attended the prom and post-prom.

Math department sees additional

Near the end of the first semester two additional math teachers were hired to fill vacancies in the department. Mr. William Idsziar and Mr. Jim Reygart joined the RF staff.

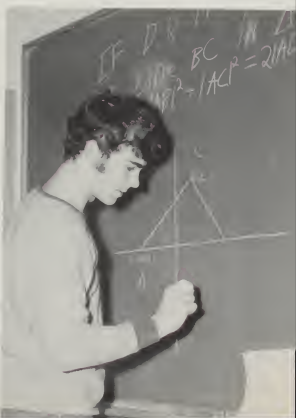

RF course offerings in the mathematics area begin with junior high math and continue through high school.

In high school, students usually begin with Algebra I or general math. The more advanced students may continue on to Algebra II, geometry or trigonometry.

Science students enjoy area field trips

Science students involved in the various department offerings visited a few of the area natural settings for the purpose of studying biology, chemistry, and physics.

Included in the science department are, bio-physical science, chemistry, general science and physics, which was just added to the curriculum.

Dissecting earth worms, crawfish, grasshoppers, cats and various species of flowers is one of the areas of the biology courses.

Chemistry students study various theories and perform a variety of experiments.

In Physics the properties of light, electromagnetism, reflection and Einstein's theory are studied.

Mrs. Kathy Hooks is department chairman.

Shop, home ec train 'on the job'

Both home economics and industrial art courses at RF are geared toward practical knowledge which can be applied to daily living.

In home economics classes, girls are introduced to the areas of sewing, cooking, child care, personal grooming and areas assimilated with home management.

Industrial arts classes teach students technical drawing, wood construction, uses of metals, electrical appliances and methods of mechanical repairs.

This year an arts and crafts course was added to the department's curriculum.

Foreign languages view native culture

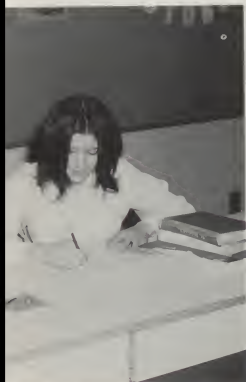

Foreign language studies at River Forest begin in the junior high as students are introduced to Russian, which is taught by department head, Mr. Gene Adamczyk.

To enroll in a junior high Russian Class students must have a "B" average in English, or permission of the department head.

Cultural background, sentence structure, parts of speech, composition, speaking and pronunciation are the major areas covered during the study of a foreign language at RF.

Included in the department are two years of French, six years of Russian, two years of German and two years of Spanish.

Social Studies fair held in RF library

Social Studies department sponsored their annual social studies fair, which was held in the library during April. Department members encouraged their classes to submit entries, and any other student enrolled at RF was allowed to submit an entry.

Entries ranged from maps, reproductions of forts, collages, paintings, mosaics, and other objects related to the area of this department.

Included in the Social Studies department are geography, US history, Latin American history, world history, world geography, social studies, sociology, marriage and psychology economics and government.

Juniors are required to complete a study of US history and seniors must take government and economics.

lab trains RF students

Business lab at RF is an advanced course designed to train students to be able to begin employment in various companies and firms.

Typing I and II are offered to high school level students who are interested in being able to type business letters, school papers and daily correspondence.

Business machines, business math, shorthand, bookkeeping, and general business all provide students with the necessary background to begin employment in some area of industry.

Mrs. Langley supervises the department.

Reading lab accents curriculum

Those students who are involved in the English curriculum are introduced to an intensive study of both literature and grammar.

Through a study of sentence structure, vocabulary and paragraphing students learn some of the practical uses of the English language.

Literature studies expand and broaden the students awareness of the periods of literary history.

Students begin their English studies in the seventh grade where they are introduced to reading procedures through use of the reading lab which is located in the library.

In Journalism students may select either newspaper, yearbook or practicum, which is a new course offering for the '70-'71 school year.

Newspaper classes are involved in production of THE MELTING POT, the RF bi-monthly offset production. Deadlines are the major concern of the yearbook staff. During the year students work with the publishing representative, the photography representative and adviser to produce the INGOT.

Phys ed, health and safety, camp

Physical education courses are required courses for all seventh and ninth grade boys and girls at River Forest.

Various activities, such as bowling, basketball, volleyball, field hockey, track and football, fill the course requirements, as well as the various required exercise practices and routines.

Health and Safety classes treat the everyday problem of home safety, drug use and abuse, as well as the function of the human anatomy.

In March a three day seminar on drug use was presented in conjunction with the Indiana State police department. This program provided the entire student body with the opportunity to become aware of the dangers and threats of drugs.

Juniors enrolled in the Camp Counseling program spend the year preparing for the annual Spring Camp for township sixth graders. This camp program, which takes place at the Indiana Dunes State Park, is run by all of the students involved in this class.

Drivers Education courses are offered during the summer months for those students interested in securing a permit.

Several speakers representing various areas of education, addressed FTA members during club meetings throughout the year.

Members of FTA attended both the area convention in Chesterton and the state convention in Indianapolis at Arlington High School. Films and film strips also helped to provide for a varied and informative FTA program during the year.

Occasional bake sales helped to raise money for the organization's treasury.

Members acted as assistants in the elementary and also provided baby sitting services for various PTA-related events.

Class of '71 looks toward future

Involved in a maze of activities, RF seniors found their final year in school to be an active one.

To kick off the year, the class won third place in homecoming float competition. During the year the senior class sponsored the Turn-about dance and were honored at the annual senior banquet, which was held at the Ramada Inn in May.

The class demonstrated its spirit by posting a variety of signs in pep sessions and entering group skits in the assemblies.

Mr. Donald Tippet acted as head class sponsor.

Private parties, ordering caps and gowns, graduation practice and final exams closed the final pages of the class of '71

RF junior high students perform in

The final year of junior high was brought to a close for the class of 1975 with the annual eighth grade graduation.

The ceremonies included the junior high honor program and afterwards the graduation dance.

On November 13, 1970 the traditional "King and Queen" dance was held. Queen Brenda George and King Mark Bianco reigned over the festivities.

During the Christmas season the junior high produced "A Christmas Carol" directed by Mr. Bob Wright. This is the first year the junior high students have performed in a dramatic production.

Jerry Back served the junior high student council this year as president.

Can drive shows seventh grade power

Seventh graders began their first Jr.-Sr. high school experiences by letting RF students know they exist.

Can drive results were the major indication that the seventh grade class was hard at work. For the first time in RF history a separate division was created for junior high and freshmen. The seventh graders took first place in their division by collecting 1,492 cans and $117.00.

Seventh graders also organized a booster block to cheer their teams during athletic events.

High School is a waste of time . . .

. . . unless you find a job that turns you on and makes good use of your education. Inland Steel wants only people who want to use everything they've learned in high school--and strongly desire to grow personally and in their chosen field.

Inland's future growth depends on the creativity and productivity of its people. If you want a really challenging opportunity to contribute--with the rewards and responsibilities that go with it--Inland wants to talk to you.

We need action-seeking graduates for opportunities in clerical . . . production . . . technical . . . and craft apprenticeship areas.

Think it over. If you have high aspirations and a good high school record, take time to find out about a career with us.

The shades are drawn . . .
lights dim, doors close.

River Forest memories drift away and await recollection some other day.

Reflections of the past and anticipation of the future . . . BOTH SIDES
NOW.

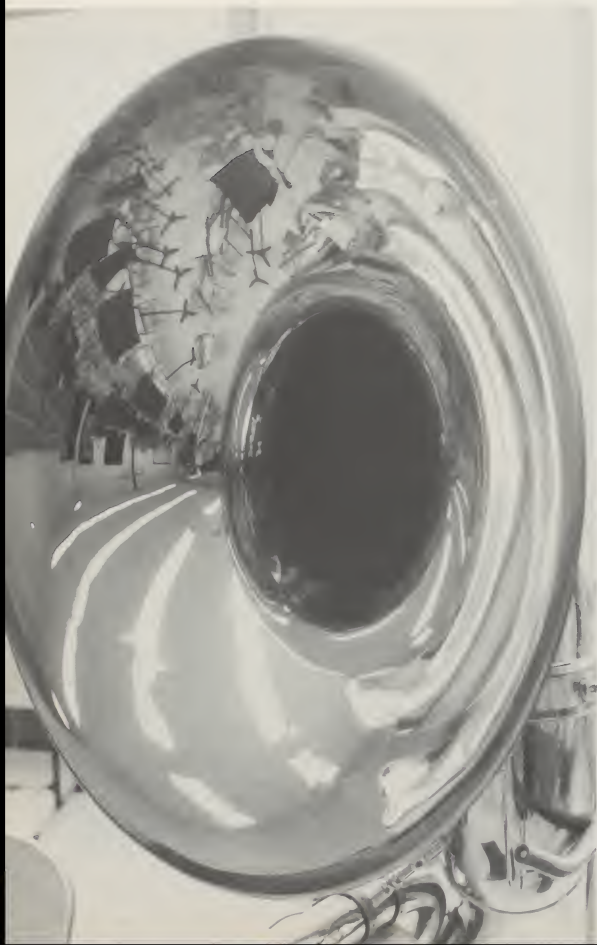

Enjoy the good times . . .
they are made to last.
Memories turn good times
into bad times . . .
sometimes . . .
Momentous experiences end
almost before they've begun.
Enjoyable times, novel times become lost times . . .

1971 Ingot witnesses ups and downs

To the best of our ability we have tried to capture the life-style of RFHS 1971 through our theme "Both Sides Now."

Book sales increased over the year, and 1971 proved to see the highest number of yearbooks sold since 1967.

Advertising also saw a great increase over this period of time, and this year was the first year that five color photos appeared in the INGOT since '67.

Due to difficulties with removal of our Newsfoto files, we are unable to include the exact book specifications.

We would like to extend a hearty thanks to our adviser Miss Carole Skibbie, for without her help we couldn't have finished the book. To Mr. Dick Kennard we extend our sincere appreciation and apologies for any and all injustices. To Mr. Ed Carney of Walings, thanks for the little "extras." Finally, to all the RF TEACHERS who supported our adviser and our "cause"—thanks!
